The N-central advantage

N-central is a remote monitoring and management (RMM) platform designed to monitor, manage, and automate IT services across networks, devices, and cloud environments from one central dashboard.

Cutting down manual troubleshooting with powerful automation and built-in AI, N-central lets your team scale your business and stop IT issues before they hit your clients.

N-central is unlike traditional IT management platforms that limit you with rigid frameworks, generic policy categories, and fragmented tools. Powered by the groundbreaking Infinity Core™, N-central's unique data-centric, automation-driven approach provides unmatched flexibility.

Dynamically filter assets, streamline policies, align automation with business goals, and scale operations with ease.

Meanwhile, deeply integrated security, a true open ecosystem, and intuitive automation empower you to build smarter workflows, greater efficiency, and exceptional service - on your terms.

delivers unmatched power and flexibility.

Many solutions rely on limited targeting data and broad policy categories, resulting in duplicated efforts. N-central's Infinity Core puts unmatched flexibility and control at your fingertips.

With a data-centric approach, N-central lets you:

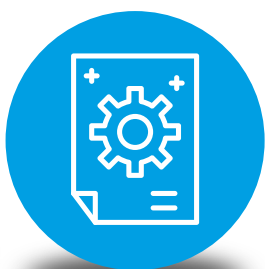

- Leverage any available data to build dynamic filters.
- Streamline policy creation while reinforcing standards and security posture.
- Align workflows and automation with your unique services and SLAs.

The Infinity Core™ is comprised of five components that generate the unique power and flexibility of N-central.

Data-centric filtering

Quickly segment devices using 100s of data points.

Service templates

Maintain standards by bundling monitoring, thresholds, and self-healing.

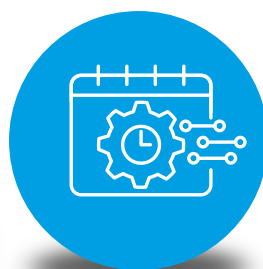

Rules engine

Create tailored automation and monitoring.

Rule and policy- based configurations

Deploy software and enable security, patching, and backup, while reducing drift.

Schedule and automate

Free up technician time on recurring tasks and enhance service reliability.

Built in security beyond the basics

Some solutions treat security as an upsell, rely on fragmented tools, or push their closed ecosystem. N-central zigs where they zag, offering a deeply integrated security toolset that's secure by design and purpose built to bridge IT and SecOps.

With N-central, you get:

- Reliable, automated patch management
- Granular RBAC, encrypted communications, and full audit logging
- Built-in Vulnerability Management (in preview mode)

Automation designed to empower

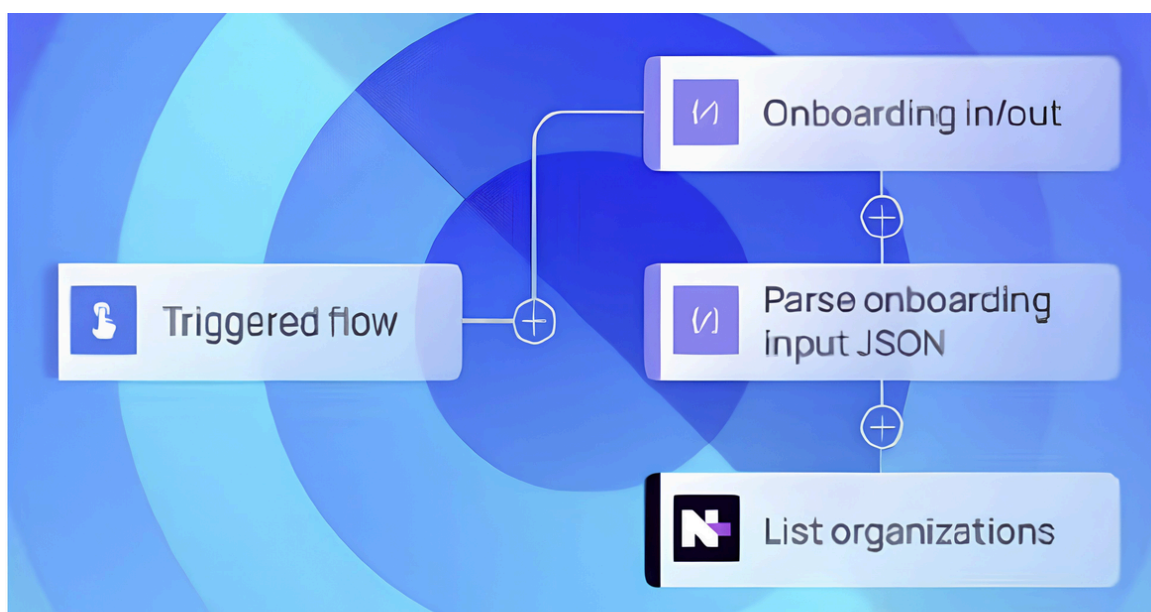

Automation doesn't have to be as complex as some solutions make it, requiring coding skills, offering limited community-driven scripts, and isolating it from policies and remediation workflows.

N-central automation is built-in, and ready to scale with your team.

With N-central, you get:

- No-code drag-and-drop automation builder
- 700+ pre-built recipes and the ability to bring your own
- Automated patching, software management and onboarding
- Self-healing workflows
- Inline automation embedded into policies and tasks
- Scheduled tasks and automated security deployments

True open eco system

Some solutions claim to support an open ecosystem, but they often function within a closed model, using marketplaces to drive resale and profit-sharing, while offering surface-level integrations.

N-central is designed differently, so you can decide your perfect mix. Build seamless, end-to-end business processes by uniting N-able, your tech stack, and your workflows.

With N-central, you can:

- Connect with leading IT documentation and security solutions
- Leverage our AI-powered Developer Portal to build custom integrations with virtually anything
- Align tools across your stack for true operational efficiency
